From the Bair family our condolences on the loss of James. He and my dad had a great time while building the house in Leesburg and in North Carolina. I myself always marveled at how he could do anything when it came to construction. The week I spent helping with the roof in the mountains wore me out but never seemed to phase him. We will think of him everytime we look at the fireplace and the pond he built for Mom. Stan Bair

James was such a wonderful giving person. I have such great memories of James from when we would come visit the family - of going to see the lovely homes he built with such exacting care and expertise. James was funny, kind and always so welcoming. Last time we visited we drove away with a bag of pecans and fresh picked fruit. My suburb-raised children had never had such an experience as seeing Uncle James and Aunt Carolyn climbing those trees to get us the best of the best. Our love, thoughts and prayers are with you all.
