There can never be words sufficient enough to provide comfort at a time like this, but an attempt is sent from my heart. Though 83 years years is quite a long, successful life span, it also provides a longer time for a person to be a part of our lives. It can bee said there is a connection between the quantity of years and the quality of life that we must live them. When that balance begins to conflict, an end must come I suppose. Please know warmest thoughts of goodness and love are sent to all who knew him well while in the physical ... also know life itself never ends for anyone living or dead ... it merely changes its form.###imported-begin###Cathy Popiel###imported-end###
