I met Terry in 1994 when we moved to Lake Placid and became neighbors. Terry became not only our friend but also the father figure that my husband never had. Life without Terry will not be the same. He made me laugh, he made the best chili, he was our handy man, my kids grandpa and my husband's best friend.Terry, until we see you again.Love,Sol In Memory of Terry I AM FREEI am now free. The restrictions placed upon meBy the confines of my physical limitations are no concerns.Flight is swift, but effortless.The joy cannot compare to any I've ever known. I am free.My soul was entrapped in a bodyAging constantly to the point of rageThe soul now flies free;I see the light of the starsThe rush of the wind tinglesLike a cool, morning breezeTo feel the love of those behind me, The joy of those who have gone before.T here is peace as I finally see my God.I will wait, for in time, you too will come. The Light, the Joy, the Love;I am now free##imported-begin##Sol Pinillos##imported-end##

I write this for you, Grandpa, as the tears roll down my face, A part of me just died today a part I can't replace. They called us to your bedside it was time for you to fly, How do you fit a lifetime into a five minute goodbye? We sat and watched you drift away into an eternal sleep, The memories they cannot take they're mine for me to keep. I can still recall your every word many times they've been replayed, I'm scared one day they'll fade. I miss you so much Grandpa more than words can tell, I will look after Grandma I promise you I will keep her safe and well. My children will remember you and always will be told, Of their special Grampa who suddenly grew old. A man so full of knowledge and also full of pride. I hope I've summed up briefly this man before you lay, May I take this opportunity to thank you for being here today. So now the time has finally come as hard as it may seem, To say I miss you so much Grandpa, goodnight, god bless, sweet dreams.##imported-begin##Renee, Scott, Wyatt, Victoria, & Scotty##imported-end##

My darling husband, words cannot describe the pain of loneliness I feel right now. I miss you so much already. My heart aches to have seen you in so much pain. Now as you are resting, but one day soon when the Lord will return to raise us up out of the grave, we will be changed in a twinkling of an eye and no more pain or sorrow. We will be with the Lord for ever. What a day that will be. See you there. Your loving wife Sue##imported-begin##Brenda Lowder##imported-end##

What a blessing it was for me to be able to be a part of Terry's life even if for a short while. I know I will see him again. This thought gives me comfort and hope. I pray that God's richest blessings may be upon the family and friends and they too may find the same blessed hope that Terry found in Jesus. Love you Brenda. You are not alone.
