There's a life time of memories of Jack. I suppose one of the best, was when Mom & Dad gave us a little brother. A brother that would grow up with pride and two of life's important thing's, Joy & Love. When I look back I'll try to smile, not to tear. A touch to my heart and know he's near. Love ya Bro. ❤️

Brenda and family I am so sorry to just now learn of Jack's passing.I remember him with many fond memories of working at the Wildwood Masonic Lodge, starting the monthly breakfast many years ago, Jack cooking many dinners at the Lodge. At Mac's funeral Jack was one of two people who came up to me to offer any help I needed just to let him know. I know your heart is breaking now but give me a call any time you need someone to talk with. Please take care of yourself and your family.Your friend always.Sharon McCurry

Look how handsome you are! You and me, all dressed up, with Linda and Gena at the wedding reception when Jim and I got married. It was so great seeing you all there, so great! Good times, Jack, good times. Thank you for being my brother.

You were the best, the best brother, the best son, the best FaFa, the best friend and the best fishing buddy. We got home late one evening from out riding our horses, the next day Dad made us sand down a whole mustang car he was getting ready to paint. We always took turns skipping school so the other one was there to cover for us. My heart breaks, miss you forever.

This poem. "Immortality," by Clare Harner (1909–1977), originally published in 1934 in The Gypsy poetry magazine, was written shortly after her brother's unexpected passing. It seems to resonate with me today.

I met him through Jamie.. from day one Jack and his wife Brenda was more than friends. He did everything possible to help any one he could out. For an example, my car broke down south of ga border. We didn't have the money to be towed and no one would drive that far to even get us home... No one but Jack, late at night he came got us. Then paid for a uhaul trailer to get our car home. From late night card games, bbqs and holidays- he was way more than a friend..he will and will forever be family in my heart. I could go on for the rest of my life talking about how amazing he..but we all know. Jamie and I, we both love you so much. Not a day will go by that we will not think of you. RIP, you deserve it.

I was there when you were born. You were Dad's first son and I remember how happy Mom was and they named you after your grandfathers. to me you were mostly just a pesky younger brother, but even I could not resist your big heart and helpful ways. I will miss that kind heart, those flashing green eyes, and your dedication to your family. I will love you forever.
